SWIMMING EASY FEAT UNTIL OVERCOME BY FEAR IS PROVEN BY SMALL BABY

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 12.—The old belief that a baby can swim naturally until it becomes old enough to fear water was borne out when George Goldbaum, 2-year-old son of Solomon Goldbaum, was found paddling in the San Antonio river below the Houston Street bridge, and was pulled out none the worse but for a wetting. The child had been playing along the river and fell into the stream. The water was about three feet deep where the baby was rescued.

If the Keith report is correct the standing of the total vote for the county is 787 to 82.

GOVERNOR POWERLESS TO VETO SALARIES OF $10,000 FOR TEXAS COLLEGE PRESIDENTS

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—Salaries of $10,000 a year each for the president of the University of Texas and A. & M. College will be carried in budget applications to be laid before the legislature next year. The state board of control will pass on the applications of the boards of these schools to the legislature for consideration, and has declared "hands off" so far as any recommendation covering these salaries are concerned, it has been stated. The proposed $10,000 salaries will be included in the lump appropriations asked for the schools, each department of the two institutions to be given a total sum for its maintenance, the money to be apportioned, and salaries fixed, by the board of regents. The board of control will leave the salary items for the boards of these schools to press before the legislature without making any recommendations for or against the amounts to be apportioned out of the lump sums as salaries for the college presidents. Under the lump sum plan, a governor would be powerless to veto any particular salary, unless he struck out the entire item for a department of branch of a school. The budget which will be appropriated by the legislature next year is for the two-year period beginning September 1, 1925. Regents of the University of Texas will meet with the board of control about Sept. 15, to go over the entire budget applications for the biennial period. Similar hearings will be held August 27 for the board of Texas Technological college, and later on for the directors of A. & M. College.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The prosecution placed its first two mental pathologists on stand at the Franks hearing today, both of whom testified that Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., were sane when they kidnapped and killed Robert Franks. Doctor Hugh Patrick and Doctor Archibald Church of Chicago testified their examinations of the defendants led them to believe neither youth was suffering from "mental illness," as put up by the defense as its plea for imprisonment rather than death for the boys.

THAT FRANKS TRIAL

Money is the root of all evil. This is a famous quotation and there are many of us who would like to find out about it but never had the object itself in order to enjoy the experience—that is enough of it for a real test. But money often protects and covers up evil.

In Chicago, today, there are on trial two young lads, scions of wealthy families, educated in the highest institutions of learning, but with criminal minds. Money is at work to save their lives from the hangman's noose or the electric chair. Will money save them? That is the question in the minds of people all over the country today. The trial is being closely watched in all the press dispatches of the daily papers.

And we believe, with cause, that the public is with us in hoping that justice will be meted out to those two boys who deliberately planned and took a life. A life for a life for deliberate murder—not in the spirit of revenge but as a lesson to would-be criminals that the wages of sin are death and punishment comes as the result of evil. They are the deepest menace to society. Were they at large, who would not be at their mercy. Wealth was no protector of Robert Franks; innocence and youth no plea to enter their hard hearts. And life is dear and precious to each one of us; and, no matter how poor a character we may be, there will be some others who may grieve at our untimely passing Westward.

Too many times have criminals been sent to asylums for incurable maladies and found later to have been released as fully safe to go about in society. Only recently we had an example of that in New York state—the sequel of a world-famous murder.

If two boys now on trial are adjudged mentally unbalanced subjects for the asylum—then every criminal in the world since time began has been mentally sub-normal, deficient or unbalanced and let's do away with the penitentiaries and similar institutions and make them all asylums.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Through the courtesy of Davis K. Doyle, the Eagle has received among its exchanges a copy of the "Golden Anniversary" number of The Comanche Chief, established in 1878, and now in its fifty-first year or well started on its second half-century of service and usefulness in its special field at Comanche, Comanche county, Texas. The management of this paper can be proud of their accomplishment in this number which is replete with historical sketches of the past, both as to the early days in the newspaper office and in the history of the county and section. It consists of 34 pages besides the cover paper in cream of a pamphlet or light book material, with neat front page etching in the center. The inside not only contains the stories of yesterday and the stories of today that are interesting to every one in the section but things that are interesting and educational. Over 5,000 copies of this paper were placed in circulation, which should widely advertise the section represented by this worth-while progressive little weekly.

WHAT'S THE REASON

Grapeland is still gaining fame as a trade center as proof of which we cite you to the throng that was here Saturday. The crowd was variously estimated at from five to eight thousand people.—Grapeland Messenger

That's easy. There is no mystery about it at all. Any town that has a good newspaper as the Grapeland Messenger and supported by such men as M. E. Darsey, advertising manager of the George Darsey & Company, who is sold to advertising as he is, can do the same thing. Advertising is the outward evidence of a progressive and prosperous people. It is the card that draws the crowd. The day has long since passed when people like to trade with the dead ones. The live merchant advertises and the buying public is usually alive to the situation. What Grapeland is doing every other town can do if they will advertise.

IT CAN'T BE DONE

Announcement of the consolidation of the Terrell Daily Tribune and the Terrell Daily Transcript is tangible evidence demonstrating again that two daily newspapers can not be successfully operated in a small city. Consolidation not only relieves the publishers of a responsibility but also the people as well. No town the size of Terrell and Bryan or even much larger for that matter can successfully support two daily papers. It has been tried time and time again only to register another failure. It costs so much in labor, material and high priced machinery these days to publish one daily. There simply is not enough business to support the operating expenses of two daily papers and both publishers and merchants have found it is much more profitable to have one good paper than two or more poor ones.

AS ONE THINKS!

Nathaniel Hawthorne is the author of a short story that is set down by critics who ought to know as a classic, the title of which is "The Great Stone Face." This story, as most everyone knows, has as its hero, Ernest, who gazes on the face as his idol from day to day and hour to hour, seeing in it only great and good and fine, big things. It was a legend in the Valley that some day a great man would appear whose features would resemble those of the massive piece of Nature's carving—the Great Stone Face. It happened that several men, one a warrior, another a statesman, etc., each came to the Valley and were anxiously watched by the people who were looking for the human likeness. Though each was at the time acclaimed the man, they were later forgotten and the legend revived until the day when the people suddenly awakened to the fact that Ernest himself was the exact likeness of the benign look of the Great Stone Face.

Though a tale that is not generally thought to be true, there is still much truth in it. How had Ernest acquired this likeness? By having within himself—his mind, his character and his heart—those very traits which he saw and worshiped and idealized in the Great Stone Face.

We have often heard the slang term "map" used in speaking of the human face. That is very correct in its application. The human face is a map and depicts the inner man as truly as would a photograph record of his mind. People who have been trained psychologically or otherwise, will easily recognize the character of people by their faces. If one has certain good points they show up in the expression of their faces—bad ones likewise. Oftentimes you have seen people who were very good-looking, but not beautiful. What was it made them handsome? It was the character shining through. Other people will naturally distrust from their facial appearance. Therefore let us keep pure in heart and true in mind for "daisies may not tell"—but the face will.

WISDOM OF SOLOMON

Solomon was a wise man because he lived in the day when women did not bob their hair and it did not cost him $500 whenever his 1,000 wives decided they needed a hair trimming. Solomon saved himself the trimming.—Bryan Eagle.

He was also wise in that he selected an age and time in which to live when he didn't have to buy fall millinery in August and winter hats for his wives in September. He also used the clay for building purposes instead of having to look upon a thousand faces plastered over with it to improve their looks. Oh, yes, Solomon was indeed, a wise man.—Mental Wells Index.

"It Ain't Goin' Rain No More" is seemingly true by the weather records of Bryan at the George A. Adams Insurance Co. The last rain that was large enough to be measured by instruments at the bureau was on June 23rd, and was .07, which of course was too small to give and aid to the farmers. Rain seems to be denied the farmers of this part of Texas yet West Texas as and North Texas is getting its share.

A new exchange to our desk is the Frankston Citizen, a weekly newspaper published and edited by two splendid, worth-while women, Cora Mae and Lella McKee. The Misses McKee are not only newspaper women in name but active ones as they do the real work of making the paper. They are making a success in the newspaper game. Just another instance where women are making good in the business world.

Why will some people drive without consideration for others? Perhaps they do not mind risking their own lives or property but why should they endanger the lives of others unnecessarily. Yet we see it done right here on the streets of Bryan every day. Why? Why? Why? run such risks when there is so little to be gained and so much to lose.

The casual caller wants to know why we talk about the beautiful yards in Bryan when we are boasting the civic beauty. Why not say gardens, of course. We stand corrected. No argument but that garden is more appropriate.

The fate of the Oklahoma woman driving a car, who said she would pass another car or die. She did. Ought to be a warning to these fiends who race up and down the highways with no thought of safety for themselves or any one else.

Home ownership is one of the tests of good citizenship. Not that a man can't be a good citizen and not own his own home, yet owning one seems a sure guarantee that he is, with very few exceptions.

Will some one please tell us the difference between mentally unbalanced and insane? The alienists insist Nathan Leopold, Jr., boy murderer is mentally unbalanced but not insane.

You have met them and so have you every day. Men and women who worry about the affairs of the State, but feel absolutely no concern about their own obligations. Consistency, thou art a jewel.

Every woman should feel the responsibility to prove woman's ability to succeed in whatever position fate places her.

Commendation now and then, Will put more life in the hearts of men.

Service to others is the only thing that makes life worth living and the world worth while.

No one ever made a mistake by being courteous.

KURLEN COMMUNITY CELEBRATES THEIR VICTORY

The Kurten Community, in a special postponed meeting of the Club met on Friday night in the village streets, in front of Lang's Garage, the scene being lighted by the Delco system recently installed at this place of business. Hundreds of people were in attendance, not only from Kurten and vicinity, but from other communities and large crowds from Bryan.

President James Lang presided over the meeting which was called for the purpose of celebrating the victory of Kurten on Brazos County Day at the Farmers' Short Course at A. & M. College where she won first in general percentages on attendance, song, speech and yell, with a percentage of 86; and first in the individual yell. She was also gathered together to receive the prize awards made by the Bryan Chamber of Commerce on Kurten County Day.

He stated that the data set forth in Miss Sabo's speech indicated most clearly that the Kurten people were practicing the principles of diversification that would continue to make the community prosper as well as progress. Mr. Orms complimented the citizens for their plans that they had on foot for the building of a new and commodious schoolhouse, capable of taking care of great community crowds and furnishing accommodations for their children.

Building Program
Mr. Eberstadt, in presenting the prize money, recounted the history of the Kurten community club and stated that the people had shown themselves ready to do anything that they were called upon to do and that last winter, when the thermometer was at its lowest, Kurten crowds were the biggest, a thing that he had never seen with any other people. He added that the Bryan Chamber of Commerce was ever ready to assist the people of Kurten or any other community to do the things that they themselves wanted to do.

At the close of the program, President Lang called upon the school trustees and others and asked about the Kurten Boys' and Girls' Club should win the Delco plant and the several hundred dollars in prizes offered to light the new building and help with the expense.

President Lang also mentioned that the Brazos County Poultry Association had some old coops for sale and referred the matter to the chairman of the poultry committee of the community fair for consideration.

Those attending from Bryan were: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Orms and son James, County Agent and Mrs. C. L. Beason, Misses Emma, Francis and Margaret Beason, Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt and Jess Conlee.

TRUSTEES ENTERTAINED BY CHAMBER COMMERCE

A large delegation of men, representing the school trustees of the various school districts of the county, and the county school board, together with officials of the Chamber of Commerce and a few invited guests were dined this noon at the Green Parrot Tea Room by the Bryan Chamber of Commerce. A splendid luncheon was served to representative class of the leaders of the county's educational institutions and the schools were represented from the smallest of rural buildings, to the great A. & M. College. Secretary Eberstadt presided and between talks highly amused his audience. He told some interesting stories and also paid high tribute to those deserving of them, in introducing each of the several speakers. On Mr. Eberhardt's right was seated Mayor Tyler Haswell, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce, who had today's luncheon in charge.

Address of Welcome
In a few brief words Secretary Eberstadt welcomed the trustees of this luncheon meeting as guests of the Chamber of Commerce. He told of Bryan's largest organization and the work it was doing, that it was an organization of the business men of the city with two main objects, "co-operation" and to "promote progress." He said that it was primarily interested in furthering the development of the city of Bryan. He added that the Chamber of Commerce was ever ready and each respective district in particular.

C. M. Bethany Is Next
Principal C. M. Bethany, recently elected on the county board of school trustees, spoke next. He was in the peculiar position of being a trustee and a guest of the occasion and also a member of the Chamber of Commerce that was host. He said that another peculiar condition was that for 20 years he had been trying to understand the position of a trustee and his ideas and running him for a job, and now he was a trustee himself.

Gabe Cazell Entertains
Gabe Cazell, song leader, who lead the Doxology at the opening of the session, and who lead other songs during the meeting was called upon for an extemporaneous talk. He entertained at some length, telling that he came from the rural districts where he was born and reared. He told of his first experience talking over a telephone and other incidents of his boyhood that were very amusing. He also paid a sincere tribute to County Agent Beason, May Haswell, Secretary Eberstadt and the President of the Chamber of Commerce, John M. Lawrence.

A Great Success
Professor D. J. McDonald spoke briefly in appreciation of the compliment of the Chamber of Commerce and at seeing so many of the rural Kurten people duplicating their program given then. Mrs. Tal Tobias conducted the community song; Miss Johnnie Sabo, recited her 2-minute speech which brought loud applause from the audience; and Britton Henderson lead the yell which won first place.

County Agent C. L. Beason then introduced G. W. Orms of the Extension Service who made the principal address of the evening. Mr. Orms complimented the people of Kurten community for the splendid progress they have made and for their wonderful spirit manifested in the meeting. He stated that in all his travels over Texas he had never seen a more wonderful community spirit than that which characterized the people of Kurten as exemplified in their meetings and in their victory on Kurten County Day.

He stated that the data set forth in Miss Sabo's speech indicated most clearly that the Kurten people were practicing the principles of diversification that would continue to make the community prosper as well as progress.

Mr. Orms complimented the citizens for their plans that they had on foot for the building of a new and commodious schoolhouse, capable of taking care of great community crowds and furnishing accommodations for their children.

Should Win the Delco
James Lang then appointed a committee to canvass the community and see if the people were willing, since the tabernacle proposition had fallen down, to transfer this money to the carpenter labor on the school building.

A Large barn belonging to J. T. Lott

J. T. Lott on his farm near Courtney was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last night between 11 and 12 o'clock, curtailing a loss of nearly $8,000, with insurance.

The barn and contents were a total loss, also a rear room amounting to only $4,500, and contents which stood close by the barn. Mr. Lott said this morning that the barn could not be rebuilt for $4,000 and housed therein were between 400 and 500 bushels of corn and over 1,000 bales of new hay. He had no idea how the fire started.

SEINEING PARTY CATCHES BIGGEST GAR CAUGHT NAVASOTA BOTTOM

Hundred and Eighty-Five Pound Alligator Gar Caught in Meshes of Net and Rope Thrown Over Him to Haul Him Out—Measured Seven and a Half Feet in Length and Nine Inches Between the Eyes.

There was on exhibit down in front of the Interurban car barn, today, an alligator gar said to be the largest that has ever been caught in the Navasota Bottom. It came out of Wixon Lake this morning on cotton scales, tipped the beam at 185 pounds. It measured 7 feet and 6 inches in length, 9 inches between the eyes and 12 inches across the back. It was caught yesterday afternoon at Wixon Lake by a party of seiners, who also caught about 200 pounds of buffalo and one 12 pound catfish.

SETS NEW RECORD

A net, about 120 feet long, had been circled out in the water and had been struck by the gar two or three times. As he would hit the net he would turn over and part of the body would show above the water. On the last round of the seining party, he became tangled in the meshes and his head drawn above the water. A noose was then thrown over his head and he was hauled out on the bank and brought in to Bryan. The gar was not weighed until this morning, about 14 hours after it was caught and after it had decreased in weight considerably.

County Agent C. L. Beason stated that he could not refrain from stressing the importance of Club work in the community and what a wonderful thing it would be if the Kurten Boys' and Girls' Club should win the Delco plant and the several hundred dollars in prizes offered to light the new building and help with the expense.

President Lang also mentioned that the Brazos County Poultry Association had some old coops for sale and referred the matter to the chairman of the poultry committee of the community fair for consideration.

Those attending from Bryan were: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Orms and son James, County Agent and Mrs. C. L. Beason, Misses Emma, Francis and Margaret Beason, Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt and Jess Conlee.

SCHOOL BOARD MAKES A TEMPTING OFFER ENCOURAGE NIGHT SCHOOL

At a meeting of the School Board Thursday afternoon at the city hall, several matters pertaining to the good of the schools were discussed. The proposition to install drinking fountains was considered, and a committee was appointed to make an investigation and to report back to the school board at the next meeting. The need of employing a secretary to the superintendent and a library attendant as secretary-librarian was considered with final action deferred to a later meeting.

Night School Encouraged.
The school board desires to encourage, in every feasible way, the organization and maintenance of a night school for Bryan, and offers the use of the school plant and its cooperation for this purpose. Those who are interested in doing work in a night school or those who know of others that wish to take advantage of this opportunity, may communicate with Superintendent Hall. Opportunity is offered to do work from 8 to 10 p. m. during the regular session, five nights a week.

The board decided to maintain a summer school next summer—beginning June 8 and ending August 14—the tuition was fixed at $10.00 per subject for the summer session. There will probably be a graduating class from the high school next August as well as at the end of the regular session. Superintendent Hall read the following statement, and the idea received the favorable action of the school board.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Need Better Cows—Not More.

Carl Williams, editor of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, states that the average production of butterfat per cow in Oklahoma is only 90 pounds, whereas, he states that it requires 250 pounds production per cow to yield a profit to the owner. As a contrast to the average butterfat production in Oklahoma, Mr. Williams points to the record of Mauchlin Snowdrop, an Ayrshire cow at the Connecticut Agricultural College, which, in 11 years, produced 101,729 pounds of milk and 4,321 1/2 pounds of butterfat that actually sold for $3,518, and insists that the "need in Oklahoma is not more cows, but better ones." This is true, Brother Williams, in many states. The standard, even in Brazos county, Texas, should be raised. And there is no better time to begin the improvement of dairy cows than now.

Cotton Estimates Given.

The Government estimate on August 1, over twelve million bales of cotton was perhaps conservative, based on the condition several weeks ago, but if Brazos county is to be taken as a basis we predict later estimates will not be near so bearish. Many farmers in Brazos county estimate the yield in the county at from two-thirds to three-fourths of that last year. In reports given in Sunday's Houston Post-Dispatch concerning the cotton crop in Texas out of the first twenty-four reported only one had a favorable cotton crop.

Agricultural Ills.

Everybody is ready to offer solutions for the ills of agriculture. Many of the suggestions, or remedies, are good and would prove helpful if we would only use them in the solution of our particular problems. In an interview with Henry Ford, Samuel Crowther, of the Country Gentleman, quotes the great manufacturer as saying concerning the trouble with farming, "The farmer is trying to live as well as the man employed in industry—and the farm will not give such a living. It never has given such a living. The real trouble is that the world has passed on and the farm has stood still. It is now little business in a world of big business. The real problem of farming is to find something in addition to farming to earn a living at. That is the plain, rough truth."

Pullets Bring $1.25 Each.

C. F. Wright, Federal student in placement training on Route 5, recently sold 79 White Leghorn pullets at $1.25 each. Will Jones of Route 6 made a shipment of 200 White Leghorn pullets at $1 each. Not a bad price for chickens 10 or 12 weeks old, though a bargain to the purchaser when the quality is considered.

Jenkins Has Winning Flock.

So far as we know, President C. E. Jenkins, of the Poultry Association, has the record for an early laying pullet, 4 months and 12 days being the age at which one of his White Leghorns began laying. Of course, Mr. Jenkins believes in keeping only the best, and the ribbons his birds win at the shows attest the merits of his fine flock.

Turkey Raisers Co-Operate.

The turkey raisers in some parts of the state last year pooled their turkeys and sold them at a considerable advantage. At the very last moment some of the Brazos county turkey raisers manifested an interest in a turkey pool, but such things can not be put over in a day.

Hay Should Be Properly Cured.

Several barns have burned in Brazos county this summer, some of which have evidently burned as a result of spontaneous combustion, caused by putting fresh and uncured hay in a close place, or by a pile of old sacks or other rubbish. In the case of hay, if it can not be left in stack or rick in the field till thoroughly cured before baling, then it would be well to place poles on top of each layer or two of bales in order that the air may better circulate. Even then it would be well to examine frequently.

BRYAN FOLKS ENJOYING VACATION CAMP WARNECKE

Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Lawrence returned last night from a week's visit to New Braunfels at Camp Warnecke. They were delighted with the camp, the water, the cool breezes, and especially the companionship. They felt very much like they were at home, there were so many Bryan and College people. Among those seen were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Felker and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bagley, Lieut. and Mrs. H. F. Seawright, Major and Mrs. Ike Ashburn, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Howell, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Parks and Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt.

MR. AND MRS. HOWELL HAVE RETURNED FROM VACATION SPENT AT CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

In passing along the roads, one may observe some farmers are taking advantage of this hot, dry weather by plowing up small patches of Bermuda grass found in many fields of the county. It is a fine time to rid the farm, or such places where its presence is undesirable, of this grass. Extremes of dry and cold weather are beneficial in ridding the place of Bermuda grass, if the work is properly done.

Save All the Feed.

W. R. Goen has spent the past week on his farm near Coleview for cutting tops and immature corn for roughness for stock this winter. That is good work. From all present indications feed stuff will be scarce this winter, and hence all should be saved possible, and none allowed to go to waste. Some farmers are already planning to sow early grain for fall and winter pasture. Just as the outlook for livestock promises to be better we can not afford to let our cattle starve during the winter months.

SPIRIT OF RIVALRY REVIVED IN CLUBS COMMUNITY WELFARE

There's something about that little old school house, or the white one, or the unpainted one, whichever it may have been in your life, that you can never forget. There's a romance attached to it and fond memories of a day long gone that is out of the years that are past. Long winter evenings are conducive to retrospection, but at no season is one immune from reminiscence. Little incidents will easily call things to mind.

"It's always the past that you love most at last!" And for some reason, perhaps, because childhood and youth are the golden times of the life of any man or woman, the school days hold the favored place in their treasured memories. "School Days! School Days! Dear Old Golden Rule Days!" The alma mater, be it little old rural school or be the magnificent building of high school or college learning brings back an almost forgotten spirit of yesterday, and now, yes today, we are ready to fight the battles of classes, and the contests for school and playmates, just as we did in the long ago. That's a spirit of loyalty and that loyalty lives down through the long years of life that follows school days and is never entirely forgotten.

And therein lies the secret of the success of Community Clubs. That some spirit of loyalty that dominated in school days is still evident in the lives of everyone in the post-school days unto death. But, it would seem that it has no object for its loyalty, no nearby and definite thing that it can serve and no manner of directly serving it—no organization, like the school of the past, through which it can bend its energies.

The Rural Community Club is this outlet. The loyalty that was given to the school can be revived or rehabilitated and made to serve even more useful and more glorious purposes in the life of the humanity that comprises any community. In years to come the Community Club of which these people were members is going to take a place along with the school in their treasured memories and the story of its accomplishments, its growth and development from a small being to a big factor in the life of the section, will be revived and re-told to the church. Rev. Tatum will go to Harvey today to assist Rev. J. W. Handy in a revival meeting this week.

Get Ready for the Fairs.

Begin now to select your best stalks of cotton and your finest ears of corn to exhibit at your community fair. Let's put it over in great shape.

Jas. W. James made a trip yesterday to his farm at Edge. He reports something like a normal crop being made, notwithstanding the prolonged drought.

The name of Mrs. Della Jewitt was on the identification card of Lysanger found in his pocket as the one to notify in case of death and is thought to be his sister.

Lysanger was shot and killed Monday morning about 6 o'clock by R. G. Turner, overseer on the W. A. Boyett plantation, one mile from A. and M. College on the College-Wellborn road. ## DON'T USE MY NAME WONT CONVICT SPEED ARTIST—IT TAKES EVIDENCE

So many complaints have been made recently about speeding of automobiles on College and other roads in the county that I feel it my duty to make the following statement: The state law on roads outside of an incorporated city is a maximum of 35 miles per hour. Inside an incorporated city the maximum is 20 miles per hour. In addition to this the city ordinance limits the speed in Bryan to 15 miles. Violations of the city ordinance should be reported to the city marshall or Recorder. Violations of the state law should be reported to either my office or to a county peace officer. My office stands ready any time to receive complaint for speeding over 20 miles per hour in the city or 35 miles per hour in the country. There is no question in my own mind but what we have violations of the speed law in the city and county many times every day. It is the duty of every good citizen to report these violations as they see them and back these reports at the court house. It will do no good to complain about these violations if the complaint is accompanied by the statement "don't use my name" for we cannot convict speeders without the evidence. A few convictions of the speed artists of our county will help a great deal. The officers are doing what they can but they cannot be everywhere, and the good citizen will help the peace officer by reporting violations.—OAK MCKENZIE, County Attorney.

HARRY LYSANGER KILLED WHILE RESISTING ARREST

R. G. Turner, Overseer on Farm Surrenders to Officers and Makes Bond in the Sum of $1,000—Preliminary Hearing Monday, August 18th Before Judge J. W. Hamilton.

In the wee hours of the morning three white convicts broke guard on the W. A. Boyett farm in the Brazos Bottom, Burleson County, about 20 miles from Bryan. The alarm was sounded and R. G. Turner, overseer on the Boyett property, in company with a negro driver, left in pursuit of the convicts. Two of the men were located about a quarter of a mile from the scene of the shooting. They gave information as to where the third man was in hiding. When Mr. Turner neared the scene the third man, Harry Lysanger, gave evidence of fight and when Mr. Turner commanded him to halt, he started a bombardment with rocks, and at this instance Mr. Turner drew his revolver and fired, the shot taking effect in his chest. The body was brought to Bryan and taken in charge by the McCulloch-Gordon Co., and prepared for burial and is being held waiting advise of relatives.

BURLESON COUNTY PRISONER:

Harry Lysanger, aged 45 years, was sent to the Boyett farm from Caldwell, on a misdemeanor charge. The shooting took place this morning at 6:10 o'clock. The only eye witnesses to the shooting were Mrs. Ed Hrdlicka and the negro who was driving the Turner car.

When the news was received in Bryan the officers went to the scene of the trouble and Mr. Turner immediately surrendered to County Attorney Oak McKenzie and Justice of the Peace J. W. Hamilton. Mr. Turner was released on $1,000 bond. His examining trial will be held on Monday, Aug. 18, before Judge J. W. Hamilton.

STATE OWNED AUTO PLATE PLANT SAYS BOARD OF CONTROL

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—The State Board of Control will recommend to the legislature installation of a plant to manufacture the 900,000 pairs of automobile number plates annually required, Chairman S. B. Cowell announced. There is no Texas concern making the plates, and the State would not be in competition with any private business in Texas. A plant, to be located in the boys' training school at Gatesville, could be installed for $35,000, adequate to meet the State's needs. The State is now paying out $100,000 annually to northern concerns, for number plates. There are enough boys in the juvenile school, whom the plate-manufacturing would give vocational training, to provide all labor without cost. The state would earn enough to more than pay for its plant in one year, besides training inmates of the school in useful vocations, Chairman Cowell pointed out.

Born at 6 o'clock this morning, Mr. and Mrs. Hy T. Schovajsa, at their home, a 9 1/2 pound daughter Mother and child doing well.

COUNTRY BOYS DEFEAT BRYAN

Playing air-tight ball behind gild edge pitching by Elmer Bullock, the county team, still stinging with defeat the day before, came back so strong that they swept down the city boys' defense, smashed that old pill and nicked the old rubber nine times. Some very juicy and inexorable errors were costly to the local boys. Bullock simply had them eating out of his hand, and if there is a third base out there, the local team doesn't know it, for they failed to get that far. What is the matter with the fans? These boys have been going out daily for the past three years, trying to give the fondom of Bryan some wholesome, clean pastime. There has never been a five-cent piece charged for admission. Now they have arranged a series of three games in order to raise sufficient funds to erect a grandstand for the comfort of the fans. What was the result? The crowd melted away, and did not give the boys the support. However, those who did stand behind them were the dyed-in-the-wool, and the boys sure appreciate their co-operation.
